

Barry Evans

Biography

Barry's professional background is technical and managerial. He has been working in the Information Technology industry for more than 20 years, spending twelve of them at British Telecom. He has been a strong advocate of Agile with its pragmatic, minimal process, people based approach since he discovered it the 1990's. He is also a qualified NLP trainer. He is currently an independent consultant and coach.

He has a broad base of experience having spent the first part of his working life in people facing jobs in the public sector before taking a year out to travel and work in Australia and then becoming interested in technology and choosing a career in IT.

He is originally from Ireland and has worked in Europe, the USA and Australia. He is based in the UK near Birmingham. He is married with two children.

He values all sorts of experiential learning. He recently renovated a 200 year old cottage in the French countryside, carrying out most of the carpentry, masonry, plumbing and roofing himself.

His latest book, Managing Knowledge, is the second of four projected volumes in the Trousers of Reality series.